Ken Wall is an experienced trial lawyer with over 35 years of experience representing plaintiffs and defendants in state and federal courtrooms throughout Texas and nationwide. He is licensed to practice in all state courts in Texas and Louisiana, as well as in multiple federal district courts in both jurisdictions.

Mr. Wall has worked alongside attorneys at Alavi Anaipakos in significant lawsuits on behalf of franchise owners, oil and gas shareholders, and prominent families, among others.

For the first 15 years of his career, Mr. Wall primarily represented large corporate entities, including Hoechst Celanese, Exxon Mobil, and General Electric.

In 2001, he relocated to New Orleans, became a member of the Louisiana bar, and worked at a firm specializing in national class-action lawsuits. He returned to Texas in 2004, where he now represents both plaintiffs and defendants, largely in business disputes.

Mr. Wall's commitment to improving the legal profession includes his current role as a Constitutional Law Instructor at the University of Houston, where he has helped prepare future generations of lawyers for more than 30 years.

Mr. Wall's work on behalf of aspiring attorneys also includes his prior position as a Government Instructor at Houston Community College.
