- The University of Texas at Austin, BS with High Honors

Scott W. Clark is a registered U.S. patent attorney with over 25 years of experience representing clients in all aspects of intellectual property and other technology-related business controversies.

Mr. Clark has litigated dozens of patent disputes in numerous U.S. jurisdictions, as well as multiple cases before the U.S. International Trade Commission (ITC). He is described in the IAM Patent 1000 – The World’s Leading Patent Professionals as someone who “knows the patent system inside out and draws on more than 20 years of experience to make all the right strategic plays to bring in important victories for his clientele.”

Mr. Clark has significant experience in all phases of civil litigation, from pre-filing through trial and appeal. He focuses on patent and trade secret disputes that cover a wide range of technologies, including those in the chemical, energy, biotech, medical device, high-tech, and telecommunications industries.

In addition to litigation, Mr. Clark advises clients on intellectual property enforcement, acquisition, due diligence, clearance, freedom-to-operate analyses, licensing, and other technology-related agreements.

Recognized in The Best Lawyers in America, Mr. Clark joined Alavi Anaipakos as a partner after years of work at the trial boutique Ahmad, Zavitsanos, Anaipakos, Alavi & Mensing and the AMLaw 100 international law firms of McDermott Will & Emery LLP, and Howrey LLP, where he focused on intellectual property and commercial litigation.

Prior to attending law school, Mr. Clark was an IT management consultant with Andersen Consulting, the predecessor to Accenture. He earned his J.D., with honors, from the University of Texas School of Law and his B.S. in Chemical Engineering, with high honors, from the University of Texas at Austin. He is a member of the State Bar of Texas and is registered with the United States Patent and Trademark Office.
